

Case Study – Peter Cragg

Peter started as a member in 2011 and became a Supported Volunteer in 2012. During the past year his confidence has increased dramatically; at the start he was very shy and now he laughs and jokes with members and staff. Ruth, Volunteer Co-ordinator says 'Peter is very helpful in setting up at the Hub and with anything IT related – it's great to have him on board'.

'It gets me out a bit and to socialise. I enjoy it at the Hub, there's a good atmosphere' Peter says (pictured below)

Peter has just completed a Works4U course at the Hub. Tash Young, Sudbury AVC and Assistant Tutor on the course, says 'Peter is enthusiastic, he helps the other students on the course if they don't completely understand how to answer a question. Peter always finishes his work first and is not afraid to make mistakes; he listens to our advice and puts it into practice every time. Peter has completely dazzled me with his brilliance, I never ever would of pegged him to be that kind of man after those times I had met him beforehand, but I am truly impressed and happily surprised and it's the Peter's that make my jobs absolutely worth every second.'
